WORTH INQUARING INTO. Mysterious Disappearances and Narrow Escapes.

Recently there have been an unusu number of mysterious disappearances chronicled in the Wheeling papers. Of three or four in as many months, only one has been explained in the lapse of time. In each case there have been al legations of foul play, though of course the evidence to sustain this suspicion was shadowy. The latest missing man is H.T. Bishop, of Thirty-third street who left his home on Saturday and has ot since been seen. He had money, nd his family believes he has been fouland bis family believes he has been fourly dealt with.

The case of the man Spencer Milligan, who was fished out of the creek by the police, as chronicled in yesterday's Istelligences, offers food for thought in this connection. He claims that he was met in a saloon by a stranger, that they took a walk together, and the other man, belonging by a second knocked him took a walk together, and the other man-being joined by a second, knocked him down, and the two, after robbing him, threw him into the creek.

This story may not be true. Again, it may. There are people in Wheeling well known to be capable of the crime. If Milligan had not been rescued, there would have been another "mysterious disappearance." The body, at this stage, would probably have been washed far down the river, and discovered months down the river, and discovered month from now, beyond identification.

The police might easily find out if Milligan had a watch and money, which saloon he was in, and who left with him. That knowledge might furnish a valuable clue to several past occur-

AN IMPORTANT DECISION at down from the Supreme Court of A

The opinion of the Supreme Court o Appeals in the case of John Unfried vs. the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company was received here yesterday and entered on the record. In this case the jury in the Circuit Court awarded Unfried $7,000 damages for injuries received on the road while in the company's employ. Judge Jacob, then on the bench, gave Unfried the choice of accepting judgment for $5,500 or having a new trial, and he elected to accept the $3,500. The company appealed the case, and won.

The syllabus is to the effect that in a case where a verdict is so excessive as to raise the belief that it is due to prejuraise the belief that it is due to preju-dice or passion, it is error in the court to allow the plaintiff to elect or accept a smaller sum as damages, when there is no way to fix the damages, but where the sum is fixed upon at the discretion ceived no information to that effect. If it were true we would probably know it. Is uspect that emanates from the same person who wrote one of our West Virginia customers that we had pleaded guilty to running a lottery. You remember, of course, that the U. S. grand jury refused to indict ys.

The Best in the World.

J. B. Loughran, ex-Mayor of North Des Moines, and the Locust street manufacturer of steam engines and boilers, said: "I had a severe attack of ia grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Fain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croups were seen and we had Chamberlain's country were seen and we had Chamberlain and chamberlai my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croupsome years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success; since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. If cured his cough, and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. I have been strongly in their favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think. For sale by W. W. Irwin, C. R. Goelze, J. offers seem still, however, to be overlooked here as they are not anywhere else. Other cities of the same size employ several messengers, while Wheeling has use for but one. 'Said's gentleman last night;

"Why don't your paper call attention to the special delivery system?"

"It has; why?"

"Weld, that saved me some expense and lots of bother to night. One of my employes was taken sick, and we either had to have a man who lives away in lime a special delivery letter, and he sent me a special delivery answer with a stamp I enclosed. That cost, all told, twenty-four cents. It is cheaper than a messenger hoy and more satisfactory than the telephone."

A little later the reporter met Ralph of Mythehead, Soperintonient of Letter Carriers, and assed him if there was any increase in the number of special delivery said and indigestion try Electric Bitters.—Entire Satisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed, or money related to the number of special delivery and more statisfaction gummiteed.
